Newborn Size

Cute little Candy Corn Hat sized for a newborn. If you want to make a larger hat you can find a helpful chart here:

SUPPLIES NEEDED:

Cut fleece so that the stretch is going with the width

1 piece of white fleece 4" x 16"

1 piece of white fleece ¼" x 10" This will be used for the tie

1 piece of yellow fleece 4" x 16"

1 piece of orange fleece 6" x 16"

I used a 3/8" seam throughout

Sew the pieces of fleece together along the 16" edges so that the white is at the top, yellow is in the middle and orange is at the bottom.

Fold the hat so that the right sides are together and the seams are matching. Starting at the top of the hat sew down until you are about 5" from the bottom. Backstitch.

Cut a small slit (don't go past the seam) just below your stitching
Turn the hat to the right side.

Continue sewing the remaining 5" section.

Fold the orange up twice concealing the seam
Topstitch near the fold (the fold near the yellow piece) all around the hat

Cut strips in the white section 1" wide x 3" long. This is the fringe.
Use the narrow white strip as a tie to tie the top of the hat together. Knot securely and trim tie ends even with fringe
